PLAZA

Featuring Robert Warwick, the distinguished star, Ruth Findlay and Paul McAllister, both great stock favorites locally, "The Man Who Found Himself," a five reel thriller from the World Film Corporation, is proving a most interesting attraction and a big drawing card as well as the Plaza the latter half of the week. The story is not an unusual one but is so cleverly told by these clever stars supported by a very capable company that it takes on an entirely new aspect. It tells a convincing story of a young, cashier's self-sacrifice in robbing his employers to provide medical attention for his invalid sister, followed by business success and of his return later to serve out his sentence and be freed of the blackmailing threats of a co-worker.

The vaudeville program is a very pleasing one including the Five Musical Marines, a quintet of talented young people who employ a large variety of instruments in presenting their ideal offering, a pretty ship scene due to the distinctness of the piece.

Golding and Keating in a classy dancing and singing act; Black and White two very clever young women in an acrobatic act that is artistic and original; and the Entire Comedy Trio in a comedy singing offering of unusual merit.

Completing the bill are "He Wouldn't Stay Down," a very funny Keystone and "The Smugglers," a dramatic story.

POLIS

If you haven't seen the wreck of "The Juggernaut," you should avail yourself of the final opportunity to-night when the sensational railroad photodrama will be shown for the last time in conjunction with a big bill of vaudeville features. "The Juggernaut" is a masterpiece of the film, and has its thrilling climax in the actual wrecking of a real train. The train pitches off a rocky trestle into roaring creek, bringing to the screen the absolute height of realism in "movie" thrills.

Miss Violet Barney, a former stock favorite here, is winning additional laurels in Charles Bachmann's presentation of Willard Mack's great playlet "Kick In." This is one of the best "crook" dramas ever staged and Miss Barney has a part in which she is afforded ample opportunities for the display of her many talents.

Other features of the program are: The Volunteers in what critics acclaim the best singing act ever seen here; Phasma, in a series of gorgeous electrical and scenic creations; The Marvel Trio, introducing two youthful wire artists; "A Tenement Flirtation," a dainty song story of the East Side; and Wahl & Jackson, in a merry singing and comedy divertissement.

LYRIC

"The Red Mill," as most theatre-goers already know, is the play in which Montgomery and Stone starred for hundreds of nights at the Knickerbocker theatre in New York. It has some of the catchiest music ever heard in an American musical comedy and has invariably proved to be a success wherever it has been shown. The production of the play at the Lyric will be in line with the production of other plays at the theatre, no detail being neglected in the endeavor to give a splendid show at popular prices. Miss Florence Mackie, Arthur Burdick, Jack Kearney, Billy Lynn, Miss Nell McCune, and all the rest of the members of the company will be seen in the play, and there will be several new members in the cast.

EMPIRE

Blanche Sweet, one of the most charming magnetic women stars portrays the leading role in the five part Lasky-Paramount masterpiece "Stolen Goods" which will head the all star program of photoplay features offered on Monday and Tuesday at Keeney's Empire theatre, the home of First Run Paramount masterpieces.

"Stolen Goods," unfolds a story of both heart interest and one replete with thrills and many timely dramatic situations. The story is brief as follows: A young girl is sent to prison through having stolen goods upon her person. A rich girl who is a kleptomaniac is the cause of the affair. The kleptomaniac takes the goods from a counter in a department store and when she sees she is about to be cornered she slips the bit of rare lace into the girl's purse. The detectives hound the poor girl when she leaves "stir" and she is made the "quarry" of the detectives. She becomes a trained nurse and the detectives tip off the hospital authorities and she learns that her services are no longer required. She is sent to the Belgium field hospital during the war. How she returns and wins the love of a young doctor is delightfully told in the unfolding of the five parts.

Other select and entertaining feature subjects will also be shown.

SAVIN ROCK

Savin Rock, New England's most popular amusement resort, begins another successful season on Decoration Day, and under most auspicious circumstances. The Park has never looked so beautiful as it does to-day, with its hundreds of maple trees all in full leaf, the spacious lawns and lovely flower beds. Starting at the Shore front, one notices at once the many improvements made this season. Bishop's Colonnade, ever popular, glistens in a new coat of snowy white both inside and out, two large and roomy roof gardens have been added, where dancing will hold forth all season, the music being furnished by a famous New York Orchestra. The usual high standard of service will be maintained, of course.

Many new amusement devices have been installed in the Grove and White City, including an interesting trip to the Panama Canal, as well as a panoramic personally conducted tour to the Pan American Exposition.

For Decoration Day, a Free Band Concert by Wittstein's Concert Band will be given in the Park and in the evening a grand illumination and pyrotechnic display.

The Connecticut Company is making elaborate preparations to handle a record crowd this year every car being pressed into service, and particularly large crowds are expected from Bridgeport, Waterbury and the Naugatuck Valley. To enjoy the day to the utmost, one should make plans to come early, take in the amusement, enjoy a comfortable dinner, and return home satisfied, and with the recollection of a day filled to the brim with good, clean, healthy pleasure.

OUR NEWTOWN NEWS LETTER

(Special to The Farmer.)

Newtown, May 29.—The Sandy Hook baseball team will try conclusions with the Olympics of Bridgeport tomorrow at the Knoll field at 3 p. m.

The Sandy Hook brass band is practicing a program of national airs with which they will entertain on Memorial Day in an evening concert.

District Supervisor A. C. Inness of New Milford was in town this week on a tour of inspection of all bridges on the state highways, which has been put in the charge of the Highway commissioner, and the towns relieved of the costs of their maintenance, by a law passed at the last session of the legislature. W. C. Johnson, local supervisor of the State roads used his car for the inspection trips and accompanied Mr. Inness.

Mrs. John Brady has improved her home by the addition of a commodious porch.

Edward Dwyer, believed to have relatives in Connecticut, is dead in New York. From letters in his possession it is known that a sister, Mrs. Charles Payne, living at "109 King street," is somewhere in Connecticut and the police have been asked to find her. The body of Dwyer is held at the undertaker's parlors of R. F. Maloney, 29th street, New York.

The barge R. C. McNeil, of New York, which sank in a storm off Fenfield reef some months ago, has been raised by the Baxter Wrecking Co.'s fleet.

COLONIAL LEAGUE UMPIRES MUST BE RESPECTABLE MEN

New Haven, May 29.—Umpires in the Colonial league must be respectable inhabitants of this planet. Furthermore they must look respectable. No set standard of "looks" has been hit upon, but the four men now on the staff agree that they can all pass in a crowd. The point is that they have been instructed by President C. B. Copen of the Colonial league to keep from looking like tramps and behaving worse.

They must carry dignity and respectability and at all times use only the English language in discussing matters on the ball field. It will not do to take a shot at words that make fans and scribbles blush, nor will it do for the umpire to let any player get away with any calico words. The Colonial league wants to do its share in elevating the game and will not stand for roughnecks or roughnecking.

WAGNER HURT IN GAME AT BROOKLYN

New York, May 29.—Mamaux out-pitched Jack Coombs in a close battle at Ebbets Field yesterday and Pittsburgh beat Brooklyn by 3 to 1. Wagner figured prominently in the victory.

Elohus tripped in the sixth, sending Baird home, and he scored himself on a close decision at the plate when Viox hit a short sacrifice fly to Myers. Wagner was hurt in the collision and retired, while Miller was put off the field by Umpire Byron for protesting the decision.

Rem-Yost Contests

The Remington-Yost management in booking the New York Stars for Sunday, have an attraction that will be well worth the trip to the field to see. They have a dandy pitcher with them in O'Neill, who pitched good ball for Jack Dunn while he was with the Baltimore International.

The Yosts will line-up as follows: Kerr C. Curry p., Norris 1b., Lousley 2b., Reilly 3b., Sherwood ss., Burke lf., Coles cf., McCormack rf., Hurley and White utility. The game will start at 3:30 p. m. with Tom McCan umpiring.

At 10 o'clock Monday, Decoration Day morning another one of New York's semi-pro, outfits, the Chambers-Arrows club will make their initial appearance in this city. This team has enviable record and should prove a good drawing card.

ANNIVERSARIES OF RING BATTLES

1882—Adelbert J. Hedding, father of the Wisconsin State Athletic Commission, under which the boxing game was legalized in Wisconsin, was born at Port Washington, Wis. Hedding was elected to the Legislature in 1913 and shortly afterward introduced the measure under which 10-round, no-decision bouts, under the supervision of a commission, were legalized in Wisconsin. Mr. Hedding early became interested in boxing and other manly sports, and while studying law at the University of Wisconsin was known as a star baseball and basketball player. From 1906 to 1908 he played baseball in the Chicago City League, and he was one of the organizers of the Lake Shore League. The Wisconsin boxing law, introduced by Hedding, was modeled after that of New York.

1870—Tommy West, welterweight boxer, born in Cardiff, Wales. 1893—Jim Hall knocked out Frank Slack in seventh round at London. 1900—Harry Harris defeated Buddy Ryan in six rounds at Chicago.

S. A. R. To Attend Memorial Services

The General Stillman Branch, S. A. R., has accepted an invitation of the United Spanish War Veterans to attend the unveiling of the Maine Memorial Tablet at Seaside Park tomorrow at 3 p. m. The Sons of the American Revolution have also accepted the invitation to attend the G. A. R., Memorial Services at the First Presbyterian Church, State street and Myrtle avenue at 7:30 p. m. to-morrow night.
